SBC would like to announce a commercial offering, SBC's Interim "UNE-P Replacement" Commercial Offering, designed for current UNE-P CLECs who wish to continue ordering new mass market<sup>2</sup> local switch port with loop combinations while negotiating a long term commercial arrangement.

SBC's Interim "UNE-P Replacement" Commercial Offering is designed to be a bridge between the effective date of the TRO Remand Order, i.e., March 11, 2005, and when SBC and the CLEC are able to reach agreement on a long-term commercial agreement.

Following is a summary of SBC's Interim "UNE-P Replacement" Commercial Offering:

- The arrangement will be confirmed in a short-term agreement not to exceed a term of 6 months, i.e., September 11, 2005, from the effective date of the TRO Remand Order.
- Under the Interim "UNE-P Replacement" Commercial Offering, the CLEC will have the ability to maintain its embedded base of Mass Market Unbundled Local Switching/UNE-P lines while continuing to acquire and provision new mass market local switch port with loop combinations for the term of the Interim "UNE-P Replacement" Commercial Agreement.
- The 6-month period will allow sufficient time for negotiations of a long-term Commercial Agreement.
- The monthly recurring price for all mass market local switch port/loop combinations under this Agreement (i.e., the CLEC embedded base as well as new installations) is $23.50 plus usage until June 11, 2005, and $25 plus usage for the duration of the Agreement.
- This Commercial Offering is not subject to performance measurements or related payments.

The foregoing is just a summary; details are published on CLEC-Online for your review and can be accessed via <https://clec.sbc.com/clec/cars/> then click on Public Documents.

While you can enter into this Agreement any time between now and September 11, 2005, its term will expire no later than September 11, 2005.
