Subject: Engineering Deliverables

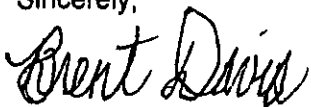

Dear Mr. Robertson:

In response to your July 13, 2007 letter (B&McD/KCPL/001) regarding the above-referenced subject, KCPL is disappointed to learn that Burns & McDonnell (B&McD) will be unable to provide KCPL with a complete list of drawings by the end of today, July 18, 2007. Frankly, KCPL is surprised to learn B&McD does not already have such a list and, moreover, does not consider such a list essential, much less helpful, in planning and executing its work. In our experience, the creation of such a list is standard industry practice. Without such a list, it is difficult to imagine how an engineering effort as extensive as the effort involved on this project could be planned or managed. This list is critical for not only KCPL but also our other vendors to plan around.

In its July 13, 2007 letter B&McD stated that it is willing to prepare a Comprehensive Drawing List. However, please note that KCPL still expects this Comprehensive Drawing List to identify all drawings which have been or will be issued by B&McD for the Iatan Construction Project, not just an estimate of future drawings. As KCPL stated in its July 11, 2007 letter, this list needs to include the status of each and every drawing in its current stage of engineering and design, including drawings not started, work in progress (and level of completeness), and issued for construction or use. The Comprehensive Drawing List should identify each drawing by both number and system and include the date that the drawing has been or will be issued for construction.

KCPL needs to know as soon as possible when B&McD will provide KCPL with the drawing list described above.

Sincerely,

Brent Davis
Iatan 2 Project Director
