Joe,

Thanks for the response. I understand Russ is out, but assuming that his numbers do include the CIAC tax, are we in agreement that it should not?

Also, as discussed in our meeting, it is clear that some reconfiguration is taking place in prep for the new circuits. Although drawings are not available, can Emeka provide any insight to the proposed plan, although it is not completely thought out?

I understand the substation dilemma. Not everyone wants one in their front yard.

Thanks,

Greg
