Competitor counts exclude resellers, prepaid providers, AT&T companies and SBC affiliates including Cingular. The commercial agreements were mutually negotiated between SBC and the CLEC. Companies included in the commercial agreement column were excluded from the UNE-P column.

The count of wireless competitors excludes companies that do not have their own network (i.e., Mobile Virtual Network Operators, or MVNOs, such as Virgin Mobile).

VoIP providers were counted only where cable modem service was available (excluding exchanges where only DSL was available) and only where a customer can port their number or obtain a local telephone number. Only 5 VoIP providers were investigated.
