STATEMENT OF POSITION OF INTERVENOR CITY OF JOPLIN

COMES now, Intervenor City of Joplin for its Statement of Position states as follows:

24. Should there be any revenue contribution among districts to mitigate the impact of full, cost of service rates for any district?

No. City of Joplin takes the position that under district specific pricing there should be no revenue contribution between Districts. If the Commission believes that there should be a revenue contribution, in the interest of equity such contribution should be levied against a district where a contribution, taken solely by itself, will have the least impact upon the individual rate payers within the contributing district. In no case should any revenue contribution be levied against ratepayers in the Joplin District.

All other issues (1-23 and 25-38).

The City of Joplin takes no position, for or against any of the other issues presented in the statement of issues filed before this Commission on December 3, 2003.

Respectfully submitted,

BLITZ, BARDGETT & DEUTSCH, L.C.
