REQUEST FOR CONCURRING AND DISSENTING OPINIONS AND MOTION TO EXTEND EFFECTIVE DATE

COMES NOW, Respondent KCP&L Greater Missouri Operations Company (“GMO”, now known as Evergy Missouri West) and for its Request for Concurring and Dissenting Opinions and Motion to Extend Effective Date respectfully states as follows:

1. GMO requests that Commissioner Kenney issue a written opinion, given his decision to dissent from the Report and Order issued on October 17, 2019. Anticipating that “GMO may seek rehearing and ultimately appeal,” the Commission made the Report and Order effective in ten days, given “the need for a prompt resolution of this matter.”¹ The Report and Order also states that Commissioner Hall will issue a separate concurring opinion. Therefore, a written dissent from Commissioner Kenney and a written concurrence from Commissioner Hall with their respective views of the facts and the issues would complete the record and allow for a complete and thorough appellate review of this case.

2. In addition, given the absence of both Commissioner Hall’s concurring opinion and Commissioner Kenney’s dissenting opinion, GMO requests that the Commission extend the effective date of its Report and Order until ten days after the issuance of those opinions so that GMO has an opportunity to address the contents thereof in its application for rehearing. Without such an opportunity, GMO's ability to submit an application for rehearing will be compromised.

WHEREFORE, GMO respectfully requests that Commissioner Hall issue his concurring opinion, that Commissioner Kenney issue his dissenting opinion and that the effective date of the order be extended until ten days after the issuance of those opinions.
