Attached please find a revised final report and a version redlining the changes to the final report. KEMA's summary of the changes is below. Let me know if you have any questions. Thanks, Natelle

During our project wrap-up review we discovered a formula error in the spreadsheet tool that converts model outputs into the figures displaying the benefits, costs, and net benefits for the various scenarios. This error primarily affected figures 1-1 and 1-2 in the report and figures A3 and A5 in Appendix A as well as other figures based on the same chart template (5-24, 5-27, 5-30, 6-14, 6-16, and 6-18). The totals and net benefits are displayed correctly in the figures, but the cost components are allocated incorrectly. Table 1-5 the submitted report, which shows the components in tabular form, has correct values for all the components. We have made the appropriate revisions to the affected figures in the attached documents, the main report and appendix A, and revised the text in some instances to increase clarity of presentation.
