ORDER SUSPENDING TARIFF AND DIRECTING RESPONSE

Issue Date: September 28, 2010

Effective Date: October 1, 2010

On September 27, 2010, AT&T Communications and AT&T Missouri filed a motion asking the Commission to suspend and investigate a tariff filed by New London Telephone Company, a TDS Telecom Company. New London filed the tariff in question on September 1, and it will become effective on October 1, unless the Commission acts to suspend it before that date.

The AT&T companies' motion explains that the New London tariff would modify existing intrastate switched access tariff provisions. The AT&T companies do not oppose the goal of revising the tariff provisions, but contend the tariff proposed by New London is vague, ambiguous, and should be clarified before it is allowed to go into effect.

The Commission does not have sufficient time to further investigate the AT&T companies' concerns about the tariff before the effective date of that tariff. Therefore, pursuant to the authority granted by Section 392.230.3, RSMo, Supp. 2009, the Commission will suspend New London's tariff for 60 days to allow sufficient time to fully consider the objections raised by the AT&T companies.

In order to promptly begin that review process, the Commission will direct New London and the Commission's Staff to file a response to the AT&T companies' motion.
