Case # WC-2009-0277

Motion To Segregate Complaint WC-2009-0277 And St Louis County Civil Case #08SL-CC01242

Case # 08SLCC01242 is irrelevant to complaint WC-2009-0277 and the present problems, which is water continues to flow from the ground in number of different areas near my home.

Case # 08SLCC01242 was filed only after many complaints fell on deaf ears and MAWC continued to ignore the problems near my home.

These are two different entities. MAWC has attempted to dilute both of them by commingling them and even used one to attempt to assassinate the other when they filed a motion to dismiss Case #08SL-CC01242 because I filed a complaint with the Public Service Commission.

The St Louis Co Court seemed to agree that they are two different entities and irrelevant to each other when it denied the motion to dismiss Case #08SL-CC01242 because I filed a complaint with the public service Commission.

For MAWC to continue to bring up Case #08SL-CC01242 can only be an attempt to blur the focus and deny the problem and distort the effort to correct the problems, allowing the problems to persist as they have done for many years.

If MAWC had its way I would have no civil case and no complaint # WC-2009-0277 and no information to show that the aging water system ever leaked. And I would have water continuing to flow from the ground in a number of areas near my home and my basement continuing to leak indefinitely as I continue to have health problems from the water and mold in my home.
