Dear Colleague:

I am writing regarding an invitation that you received for a luncheon in which I will participate on May 14, 2015 at Kemmols/Top of the Met in St. Louis. If you haven't RSVP'd yet, I hope that you will make time in your schedule to attend. You may RSVP through the following link:

In 2013, I participated in a luncheon in Missouri that opened up dialogue between diverse investment banks and Missouri's regulated utilities. Once again, the luncheon sponsors have asked me to share my thoughts on supplier diversity in the context of financial services. I know the attendees – which will include representatives from Investor Owned Regulated utilities operating in the state of Missouri, as well as representatives from minority, women, and disabled veteran owned and small investment banks – will also benefit from your thoughts on the subject and will want to learn more about initiatives and any developments since the 2013 luncheon that your company has made in this area.

I look forward to seeing you at the luncheon.

Sincerely,

Robert S. Kenney
Chairman
Missouri Public Service Commission

Dear Robert,

We are pleased to invite you to a luncheon featuring Chairman Robert Kenney of the Missouri Public Service Commission. The luncheon is scheduled for Thursday, May 14, 2015 from 11:00am - 1:30pm at Kemoll's at Top of the Met in St. Louis, Missouri.

Chairman Kenney will share his thoughts on the topic of supplier diversity as it pertains to minority-owned, women-owned, and small investment banks. After Chairman Kenney's remarks, you and other invited executives from regulated utilities operating in Missouri will be able to share thoughts on the topic and updates on your company's efforts in this area.

We hope you will be available for networking opportunities immediately following the lunch. We will be joined by Missouri Public Service Commission staff members, along with representatives from additional MWBE/small investment banking firms.

Thank you very much, and we look forward to seeing you on May 14, 2015.
