Re: The Innsbrook Corporation v. AT&T
Case No: IC - 2007 - 0113

Dear Ms. Dale:

Enclosed please find my Entry of Appearance and signature page, which was inadvertently omitted from the original filing. As you know, this office's cover letter accompanied the Formal Complaint with this office's address contained on the federal express air bill which we believed satisfied all requirements for entry of appearance by an attorney.

We note that all parties involved in this matter and even one that does not exist to wit: The Innsbrook Legal Department, which appears nowhere in any of the pleadings were sent notices of the "deficiency". However, this office received nothing despite its filing memorandum. We trust that this formal Entry of Appearance will satisfy the notice of deficiency and compliance forthwith.

Very Truly Yours,

A large, stylized handwritten signature in blue ink, appearing to read 'DKA', is written over the typed name.
