2000. On February 16, 2000, Trans National filed its motion to extend the time within which to file a procedural schedule for thirty (30) days in order to allow time for negotiation of a stipulation and agreement. Trans National did not state the positions of the other parties, nor did any other party respond to Trans National's motion to extend. Trans National, in fact, did not show that it had served its motion to extend on the Staff of the Commission, so was ordered to file a certificate of service showing that it had filed its motion to extend on the Staff. Trans National filed its response to that order on February 29, 2000, along with a certificate of service on Staff, showing that Trans National had served Staff on February 28, 2000. Trans National also stated "[t]he Commission should note...that general counsel was served a copy of [Trans National's motion to extend] on or about February 16, 2000 by members of the Commission's Records staff." The Commission reiterates that it was Trans National's lack of certificate of service, and not the actual service itself, which prompted the Commission's order directing filing.

The Commission will grant Trans National's motion to extend the time within which to file a procedural schedule.

IT IS THEREFORE ORDERED:

1. That the parties shall file a proposed procedural schedule no later than 3:00 p.m. on April 6, 2000.

2. That this order shall become effective on March 17, 2000.
