MOTION TO MODIFY PROCEDURAL SCHEDULE

COMES NOW the Office of the Public Counsel and for its Motion to Modify Procedural Schedule states as follows:

1. In its September 5, 2012 Order Directing Notice, Setting Intervention Deadline, Directing Filing and Scheduling a Conference, the Commission set a joint procedural conference. As a result of that conference and further discussions, the parties proposed a procedural schedule on November 2, 2012.

2. The Commission adopted that schedule in an order issued November 7, 2012. After the parties proposed the schedule and the Commission approved it, the undersigned attorney became aware of a scheduling conflict for the week of the evidentiary hearing. Public Counsel has conferred with the parties about moving the evidentiary hearing to the week following the week in which it is currently scheduled, and similarly moving post-hearing events. All the parties have indicated that they do not object to these scheduling changes. The table below shows the procedural schedule as established by the Commission in the column labeled

“CURRENT” and Public Counsel’s proposed modification in the last column labeled “PROPOSED”:

3. There are no statutory deadlines by which the Commission must act in this matter, and none of the parties object to this proposed change.

WHEREFORE Public Counsel respectfully requests that the Commission modify the procedural schedule as discussed herein.

Respectfully submitted,

OFFICE OF THE PUBLIC COUNSEL
