UTILITY LIST SUMMARY

Utilities crossings on this list were captured from a variety of sources:

Water

- Missouri OneCall member list
- Missouri Spatial Data Information Service (MSDIS) 2020 Public Drinking Water Supply Districts

Electric

- Missouri OneCall member list
- Missouri PSC “Find a Local Utility”
- AECI service area maps
- Service area and outage maps provided online by electric co-ops and companies

Telecom

- Missouri OneCall member list
- Service area or network maps provided online by telecommunications companies
- FCC Fixed Broadband Deployment map

Gas/Pipeline

- Missouri OneCall member list
- National Pipeline Mapping System (NPMS) intrastate pipelines
- Information provided by the public during public meetings
- Missouri Natural Gas Pipelines map (by Missouri PSC)
- Missouri PSC “Find a Local Utility”
- System maps provided online by pipeline companies

Transportation

- Missouri DOT roads data
- System maps provided online by railroad companies

Except where detailed infrastructure network data was publicly available, utilities were included on this list on the basis of their service area being crossed by the project. Particularly for utilities providing water, electric, and gas service, if the Project crosses their service area, it is reasonable to assume that the Project will cross the infrastructure serving their customers in that area. Grain Belt has not confirmed that all utilities listed are crossed but will verify precise crossing locations and the owners of crossed utilities as development continues.
