In the available time, Public Counsel was not able to determine if teleconferencing facilities are available, but have tried to select public buildings. The contacts at these locations may have additional information about the availability of alternative sites that can accommodate teleconferencing.

Public Counsel tried to select locations in various regions of the state with a goal of limiting the number of public hearings to six, given the timeframe for consideration.

In the alternative, or as a compliment to the public hearings, Public Counsel suggests that the Commission establish a formal comment period with special notice and an invitation for comments directed to the news media distributed and broadcast within the affected communities.. In this way, the opportunity for public comment can be made available in those exchanges where public comment hearings cannot be held or scheduled.

Respectfully submitted,

OFFICE OF THE PUBLIC COUNSEL
