Dear Mr. Roberts:

Executive Order 03-15, Section 2, requires, among other things, that state agencies determine whether a proposed rule or rules affect small businesses. If the Public Service Commission determines that its proposed rule or rules affect small businesses by causing a direct and significant economic burden, it must then prepare a small business impact statement for submission to the Secretary of State.

In consultation with the staff of the Public Service Commission, I have undertaken an analysis of whether the proposed rule modifications updating the Commission's annual report submission regulations affect small businesses. I have determined that the proposed rule amendments listed above do not affect small businesses in a direct and significant manner, nor do they directly relate to the formation, operation or expansion of a small business.

The rule modifications listed above are designed to update the Commission's rules to provide consumers a better understanding of their bill and the ability to control what type of calls are made from their telephone or what items are charged on their telephone bill. None of these amendments will have any direct and significant economic burden upon small businesses.

October 24, 2003

Therefore, preparation of a small business impact statement is not required for these rule amendments.

Please let me know if you have any questions based upon the foregoing.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Roberts:

Executive Order 93-13 requires state agencies to undertake a "takings analysis" of each proposed rule or regulation in light of the United States Supreme court decision in Lucas v. South Carolina Coastal Council, 112 S.Ct. 2886 (1992). Pursuant to that order, I have undertaken a "takings analysis" of the above-referenced proposed rulemaking. In Lucas, the Court held that state regulation depriving a real property owner of all economically beneficial use of that real property constitutes a "taking" under the Fifth and Fourteenth Amendments of the U.S. Constitution, for which the property owner must be compensated. The Court also held that when state regulations compel a property owner to suffer a permanent physical invasion of his/her property, such an invasion is compensable.

The proposed amendments are designed to update the Commission's rules to provide consumers a better understanding of their bill and the ability to control what type of calls are made from their telephone or what items are charged on their telephone bill.

The proposed rule amendments do not implicate the takings clause of the U.S. Constitution, because they do not involve the taking of real property.
