The Company may combine consumption of steam service registered and render a single bill for steam service supplied to a Customer at his premises through two or more meter installations if, at the option of the Company, such multiple metering is installed as a convenience to the Company or because it is more economical for the Company to do so. If a Customer requests that any meter(s) be installed in addition to those determined to be appropriate by the Company, the Customer shall pay all costs for said meter(s).

6.3 METER READING. Except as otherwise provided herein or in applicable rate schedules of the Company, each meter will be read at monthly or more frequent intervals, and such readings shall be the bases for the Company's monthly billing for steam service.

6.4 EQUIPMENT SEALS. Seals may be placed by the Company on all meters, valves and auxiliary equipment owned by the Company. Such seals shall not be broken or disturbed by any person other than persons authorized by the Company or by law.

in the next subsequent billing based upon a reading of the meter by the Company.

6.5.1 BACKBILLING - MISSING OR DEFECTIVE METER. In the event of delayed or waived meter installation or when installed meters fail to register, the meter is determined to read either fast or slow, or the quantity delivered during the period in question shall be estimated, upon (i) past Customer usage during a similar period and under similar conditions, (ii) comparable usage during the period in question by other buildings of the Customer or by other customer's buildings, duly measured by functioning meters, (iii) Customer usage measured by a duly tested and calibrated meter during a subsequent period, adjusting for degree days, or (iv) some combination of these methods (in which case the determination shall be based on an averaging of the results), and the Customer shall pay a reasonably determined approximation for service during said period on this estimated amount. In cases where a defective meter is determined to have caused excessive billing in the past, the customer shall be credited for past over-billings. All billing adjustments based upon estimated usage shall indicate the method of estimation employed and shall set forth in reasonable detail the calculation of the amounts billed or credited.

The limitation on backbilling is as follows:

- Non-existent or stopped meters can be estimated for a period no longer than four (4) months back. Unmetered usage going back further than four months is forfeited.
- A slow-reading meter can only be adjusted for billing purposes, going back a maximum of twelve (12) months from date of corrective action. If a shortened period can be determined reasonable, that period shall apply.
- A fast-reading meter shall be adjusted for billing purposes, going back a maximum of twelve (12) months from date of corrective action. If a shortened period can be determined reasonable, that period shall apply.

If any test establishes that a meter is not accurately performing in accordance with such specifications, the company, at its expense, shall cause the required calibration, repair or replacement to restore meter accuracy, and shall make an appropriate readjustment in the affected Customer's billing, measured from the date it is determined in good faith that the inaccuracy began. If such a determination cannot be made, the billing adjustment shall be made for one-half of the period between the date of the last prior successful meter test and the date of the current test disclosing the inaccuracy, provided, however, that, except in cases of meter tampering, such adjustment period shall in no event exceed six months.

6.7 EVIDENCE OF CONSUMPTION. Except as otherwise provided herein with respect to tampering and defective meters, the registration of the Company's meters will be accepted and received at all times and places as prima facie evidence of the amount of steam taken by the customer.

6.8 BILLING ADJUSTMENTS. Any bill which is improper due to the escape of condensate before it is registered by the meter, the metering of noncondensate water or similar malfunctions of the Customer's installation shall be subject to adjustment for the entire period during which the particular malfunction existed, not to exceed sixty (60) months. ARTICLE 7. CHOICE AND APPLICATION OF RATE SCHEDULES

7.1 POSTING. The rate schedules of the Company currently in effect and on file with the Commission will be made available by the Company for inspection by any Customer during working hours at the principal business office of the Company.

7.4 CHANGE OF RATE SCHEDULES. After a Customer has selected an applicable rate schedule under which he elects to take steam service from the Company, he will not have the right to change his selection of his applicable rate schedule available for that class of steam service until the end of the minimum initial term. However, the Company may permit the Customer to terminate his existing service agreement during such initial term and enter into a new service agreement under a different applicable rate for that class of service if the Customer's steam requirements prove to be different from those originally estimated or if there is a change in the character or condition of the Customer's steam requirements and such change is based upon permanent rather than temporary or seasonal conditions.

ARTICLE 8. BILLING AND PAYMENT

8.1 BILLING. Normally, the Company will read the Customer's meter monthly and bills based on such monthly readings will be rendered at intervals of approximately one month. 8.3 PAYMENT DEFAULT. Failure of the Customer to pay any amount due the Company under the Customer's service agreement in the full amount due before the tenth (10th) day after rendition shall constitute a default by the Customer in his service agreement.
