2.3 Obligations of the Customer (Cont'd)

2.3.12 Media Stimulated Mass Calling Events

- (A) When Access Service is utilized to provide services for which a substantial traffic volume is anticipated during short periods of time (e.g., 800, opinion polls, calls placed in response to television and radio advertising, Web Site advertisement, Streaming Video and Audio events), the customer shall provide notification of such event to the Company at least 24 hours in advance of peak period. Such notification shall include the nature, time, duration, and the frequency of the event, as well as estimated volume to be expected.
- (B) The Company will utilize such information to administer its network in a manner that minimizes the impact of traffic surges due to media stimulated mass calling events. Failure to provide such notification may cause excessive network congestion which could result in a complete loss of service to the customer. If the Company has not received required notification at least 24 hours in advance of the event, and a service interruption occurs, a credit allowance as specified in 2.4.5 will not apply.

2.4 Billing Regulations (Cont'd)

2.4.3 Payment of Rates and Charges

For services provided under this tariff, the Company will bill in the following manner:

- Charges or credits due to the customer for services established or discontinued during the preceding billing period will be billed on a current basis,
- Recurring rates and charges for services will be billed in arrears, and
- Usage charges and charges associated with services provided to the Federal Government will be billed in arrears.

All bills are due when rendered (i.e., thirty (30) days after or by the next bill date as set forth in (A) following). If the payment date would cause payment to be on a Saturday, Sunday, or Legal Holiday, payment for such bills will be due from the customer as follows:

- If the payment date falls on a Sunday or on a legal Holiday which is observed on a Monday, the payment date shall be the first non-Holiday day following such Sunday or Legal Holiday.
- If the payment date falls on a Saturday or on a Legal Holiday which is observed on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, or Friday, the payment date shall be the last non-Holiday day preceding such Saturday or Legal Holiday.

Adjustments for the quantities of services established or discontinued in any billing period beyond the minimum period set forth for services in other sections of this tariff will be prorated to the number of days or fraction thereof based on a thirty (30) day month.

3.1.5 Rate Regulations

This section contains the specific regulations governing the rates and charges that are applicable to Dedicated Internet Transport.

(A) Rate Elements

There are two basic rate elements which apply to Dedicated Internet Transport.

(1) Channel Termination

The Channel Termination rate element provides for the communications path between a customer designated premises and the serving wire center of that premises.

One Channel Termination charge applies per customer designated premises or the Company's central office at which the channel is terminated. This charge will apply even if the customer's designated premises and the Company's central office are both located in the same building.

(2) Channel Mileage

The Channel Mileage rate element provides for the transmission facilities between the serving wire center and the serving wire center of the Company's central office.

A flat rate and a rate per mile applies to Channel Mileage.

(C) Nonrecurring Charges

Nonrecurring charges are one-time charges that apply for specific work activity (i.e., installation or change to an existing service). The types of nonrecurring charges that apply for Dedicated Internet Transport are:

- Installation of Service
- Service Rearrangements

(1) Installation of Service

Nonrecurring charges apply to each service installed. These charges are set forth in Section 3.1.6(A)(2) as a nonrecurring charge for the Channel Termination rate element and are applied per circuit on a first and additional basis for each service ordered. The initial circuit incurs the first nonrecurring charge for the Channel Termination associated with that circuit at each termination point. Each subsequent circuit at each termination point incurs the additional nonrecurring charge for each Channel Termination associated with that additional circuit.

In order to receive the benefit associated with ordering multiple circuits, the following criteria must be met:

- Same Order
- Same Application Order Date
- Same Due Date
- Identical Transport Channel Type
- Same Billing Number
- Same Billing Customer
- Same Designated Premises

Service Rearrangements are changes to existing (installed) service which do not results in either (1) a change in the minimum period requirements as set forth in 3.1.5(F) or (2) a change in physical location of the point of termination at a customer designated premises.

Changes which result in the establishment of a new minimum period obligations are treated as disconnects and starts. Changes in the physical location of the point of termination are treated as moves as described in 3.1.5(E).

The charge to the customer for the service rearrangement is dependent on whether the change is administrative only or involves actual physical change to the service.

(a) Certain administrative changes will be made without charge to the customer. These administrative changes are as follows:

- Change of customer name, (i.e., the customer of record does not change but rather the customer of record changes its name).
- Change of customer's address when the change of address does not involve a physical relocation of the service.
- Change in billing data (name, address, contact name, or telephone number).

(D) Mileage Measurement

The mileage to be used to determine the monthly rate for the Channel Mileage is calculated on the airline distance between the customer designated premises serving wire center and the Company's central office serving wire center.

To determine the rate to be billed, first compute the mileage using the V&H coordinates method, as set forth in the National Exchange Carrier Association, Inc. Tariff F.C.C. No. 4, as shown below. When the calculation results in a fraction of a mile, always round up to the next whole mile before determining the mileage and applying the rates.

Mileage Formula

$$\sqrt{\frac{(V1 - V2)^2 + (H1 - H2)^2}{10}}$$

(E) Moves

A move involves a change in the physical location of one of the following:

- The Point of Termination at the customer's premises
- The customer's premises

The charges are dependent on the type of move requested by the customer.

(1) Moves of the Point of Termination Within the Same Customer Premises

When the move of the Point of Termination is to a new location within the same customer premises, the move will be treated as an extension of the Dedicated Internet Transport facilities which will be provided on an individual case basis.

(2) Moves of a Customer Premises

Moves to a different customer premises will be treated as a discontinuance and start of service. New minimum periods will be established for the new service. The customer will also remain responsible for satisfying all outstanding minimum period charges for the discontinued service.

(G) Term Pricing Plan

Dedicated Internet Transport Term Pricing Plan provides the customer with rate stability over the life of the contract period.

Decreases in the Term Pricing Plan monthly recurring tariff rates will be passed on the customers who participate in the Term Pricing Plan. The Company will notify customers participating in the Term Pricing Plan when monthly rates are decreased.

Should the Company increase its rates during the Term Pricing Plan period, the customer would continue to pay the rates in effect at the time the customer elected to participate under the Term Pricing Plan until such time the term period has expired.

Customers who renegotiate a new Term Pricing Plan prior to the expiration of the customer's existing Term Pricing Plan, may continue with rates in effect at the time of the existing Term Pricing Plan.

Customers requesting the termination of the Term Pricing Plan prior to the expiration of the term period, or service is discontinued prior to the expiration of the Term Pricing Plan will be charged as indicated following:

Term Pricing Plan		Months		Termination
total monthly	X	remaining	X	percentage
charge		in term		100%
