The provisions of this schedule apply to the transportation service provided to customers qualified to receive such service, in accordance with the Company's applicable rate schedules.

Any customer receiving transportation service under this tariff shall purchase its own gas supply for delivery to the Company's city gate station.

Schedule 560

For All Service Areas Except Palmyra

Each customer meeting the eligibility requirements of this schedule and choosing to be a transportation customer, must give the Company 12 months written notice before they may switch from transportation service to sales service, unless the Company can obtain additional transportation capacity or storage or both from the supplying pipeline(s) at an economic rate. Where the Company makes the decision to allow the customer to switch to sales service from transportation service, it will submit a report to the Missouri Public Service Commission Staff (Staff) showing how much of each type of the pipeline capacity and/or storage charges are required to serve the customer. The Company will also present to the Staff documentation showing where, how and at what cost each of these requirements will be met.

Each customer served under this rate schedule shall be required to pay $3,000 (includes applicable income taxes) for the cost of and installation of each Automated Meter Reading Service (AMRD) needed to provide the transportation service. Customers shall pay the cost of installation, maintenance and any monthly usage charges associated with telephone, power or other utility or energy source costs required for the operation of the AMRD. Customers are also required to provide adequate space in new or existing facilities for the installation of the AMRD. The AMRD will be the property of the Company.

For safety, billing and efficiency-related reasons, the Company will install and operate all AMRD equipment. Such equipment will provide for the on-site measurement of natural gas consumed by the customer. Company will provide a data link or contact closure from the Company's AMRD equipment to the Customer at the meter site so the customer can receive data in the same fashion that it is available to the Company. At the customer's request, Company will inspect and evaluate the customer's connection.

Availability:

Service under this rate schedule is available to those customers who qualify for service under the Large Volume Service or Interruptible Gas Service tariff sheets and who have entered into a written contract with the Company under this rate schedule in order to retain an alternate fuel customer. The Company will create and retain for use in future rate proceedings a rate lower than the tariffed rate. For ratemaking purposes the Company shall have the burden to prove that their negotiated flexed rate was prudent.

Negotiated Gas Service Rates:

The Company will charge the customer qualifying for this schedule the Large Volume Service rates or Interruptible Gas Service rates pursuant to the following:

The only portion of the Large Volume Service rates or Interruptible Gas Service rates that may be flexed is the term identified as "2. Commodity Charge" on the Large Volume Service tariff sheet or Interruptible Gas Service tariff sheet. The Company may not flex the "2. Commodity Charge" for monthly purchases at or below 8,250 Ccf. Purchased Gas Adjustment factors or other tariff provisions may not be flexed pursuant to this schedule.

Applicability

Service under this rate schedule is available to those customers who qualify for service under Rate Schedule 550 or Rate Schedule 560 and who have entered into a written contract with the Company under this schedule. The Company has the right to decline to enter into such a contract since service provided by Company under this schedule is designed to meet competition from alternative fuel or gas to gas competition or both. Service under this schedule to customers identified in this paragraph shall be subject to interruption or curtailment or both prior to service provided under Rate Schedule 550 or Rate Schedule 560.

Service under this rate schedule is also available through a separate meter to commercial and industrial customers where the gas is used as a single primary fuel source to generate electrical thermal energy in order to optimize efficiency (cogeneration); where it is compressed for use as a fuel for automobile or truck fleets; where it is used as a fuel source for a fuel cell; or where it is used in high load factor systems that provide chilled water, space chilling, and/or humidity control.

The intent of this rate schedule is to provide the Company flexibility to sell gas at negotiated rates for the purposes set out in this rate schedule when the otherwise applicable tariff rates are non-competitive.

Rate:Customer Charge

A monthly customer charge of $ 50.00 per meter is payable regardless of the usage of gas.

TRANSPORTATION SERVICE FLEX CONTRACT RATE

Schedule 592

For All Service Areas Except Palmyra

Service Commission

Availability

The Company may in instances where it faces the possibility of bypass by a natural gas transportation pipeline, negotiate and enter into a special transportation contract with customers who would otherwise qualify to receive service under the Company's Transportation Service rate schedule (Schedule 560). The Company may negotiate and perform transportation contracts with rate flex sufficient to retain economically worthwhile customers on the system. The Company may flex its tariffed transportation rate to meet such competition, but the contract must at least recover all variable costs associated with service to the customer, plus a reasonable contribution to the Company's fixed costs during the course of the contract. All such contracts will be thoroughly examined and reviewed in any subsequent rate case or PGA/ACA proceeding involving costs under such contracts to determine whether the contract meets the standards set by the Commission in its Report and Order in Case No. GR-95-160. Nothing in this provision shall be construed to require the Company to initially enter into or renew such contracts.

CANCELLED

OCT 01 2002

Ratemaking Treatment:

In each pertinent proceeding, the Company will file testimony and all documentation necessary to justify its decision to flex to a rate lower than those contained on the Company's Transportation Service Rate Schedule (Schedule 560). Upon a prima facie showing by another party that a transportation contract was flexed down below the full tariffed rate, the Company will be required to show by full, complete, and substantial and competent evidence that the arrangement 1) was necessary to avoid imminent bypass, 2) recovers variable costs plus a reasonable contribution to fixed cost, and 3) in instances involving affiliates, was at arms length and flexes rates no lower than necessary to meet relevant competition.
