BELLBOY PERSONAL SIGNALING SERVICE

1.1 APPLICATION OF TARIFF

1.1.1 This Tariff applies to BELLBOY Personal Signaling Service by Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

1.2 REGULATIONS

1.2.1 Definitions

- A. BELLBOY Personal Signaling Service - Denotes a two-way transmission of signals from any telephone with exchange access, through a land radiotelephone station, to a personal signaling receiver equipped for such service.
- B. Group Alert - This service provides the capability to dial a single number and sequentially alert a selected list of receivers.
- C. Receiver - Denotes a small portable radio unit which may be carried on the person of the subscriber. The receiver is not supplied by the Telephone Company, but is available through radio communications equipment companies, electronic equipment retailers and/or authorized agents of the Telephone Company. Compatible receivers must have Golay Sequential Code (GSC, made by Motorola), Post Office Code Standardization Advisory Group (POCSAG, devised by a consortium of manufacturers and users) or NEC (Nippon, Inc.) digital formats.
- D. Repeat Alert - This service allows regeneration of the initial alert signal to the receiver, automatically, at 30-second intervals. Repeat alert is an optional feature which may be ordered by the customer with a maximum of three repeats.
- E. Tone and Visual Display Service - This service will tone alert the user and display (via Liquid Crystal Display on the pager unit) the calling number for call back or other pertinent information (message) coded in numeric format (maximum 10 characters per message.)
- F. Tone-Only Signal Service - This service emits a beep tone from the receiver, when activated, to alert the user to "call in" for a message to a prearranged location via the nearest telephone.
- G. Second Address - This service provides the user with two separate, distinct beep tones allowing recognition of calling number or signal source. This feature is available with both Tone-Only Signal Service and Tone and Visual Display Service.

1.2.5 Payment for Service

The customer is responsible for payment of all charges for services furnished the customer.

Upon nonpayment of any sum due the Telephone Company, the Telephone Company may, after five days' written notice has been furnished to the customer, without incurring any liability, forthwith discontinue the furnishing of said service. If, in the judgment of the Telephone Company, unusual risk of financial loss exists, service may be suspended after 48 hours' written notice has been furnished to the customer.

Any applicant, or one for whom an application is made, owing the Telephone Company for service furnished under a former contract, shall pay or make satisfactory arrangements for paying any bill outstanding and unpaid for such service before any additional service will be furnished.

1.2.6 Deposits

If it is deemed necessary by the Telephone Company in safeguarding its interests, applicants for service or present customers may be required to make a deposit of an amount not to exceed two months' service charges, to be applied in payment of any unpaid charges for service which may be rendered. Simple interest at the rate of nine percent (9%) per annum will be paid on deposits held thirty days or more.

An applicant for service or a present customer may satisfy a deposit requirement by providing a Contract of Guaranty in an amount not less than the requested deposit from a present customer acceptable to the Telephone Company. The guaranty contract shall be on a form provided by the Telephone Company which shall include the Company's right to transfer charges to the limit of the guaranty, from a defaulted bill of the customer, from whom a deposit or a Contract of Guaranty was required, to the guarantor's account or accounts and the further right to suspend the guarantor's service pursuant to the Rules and Regulations Applying to all Customers' Contracts Section of the General Exchange Tariff.

The fact that a deposit has been made, or a guaranty provided, in no way relieve the customer from complying with the regulations as to the prompt payment of bills, nor constitute a waiver or modification of the regular practices of the Telephone Company providing for the termination of the service contract for nonpayment of bills.

Service may be discontinued for failure to furnish a suitable deposit, when conditions appear to require the Telephone Company to have such credit protection, after the Telephone Company has furnished five days' written notice to the customer requiring the customer to furnish such deposit. If, in the judgment of the Telephone Company, unusual risk of financial loss exists, service may be discontinued after 48 hours' written notice has been furnished to the customer.

Any balance of the amount deposited and credited to the customer's account is returned to the customer at the termination of the contract, or it may be returned at any time previous thereto at the option of the Telephone Company when it is deemed that the customer has established satisfactory credit.

1.2.7 Minimum Contract Period and Termination of Service

- A. Minimum Contract Periods - The minimum contract period for service is one month.
- B. Termination of Service at Customer's Request - The service may be terminated by the Telephone Company at the request of the customer at any time, subject to payment of all charges for the period service is rendered, except that, if such termination occurs within the minimum contract period, charges shall apply for the minimum contract period.

1.2.8 Service Agreements

An application for service becomes a contract upon the establishment of service. Requests for additional service, upon the establishment thereof, become a part of the original contract, except that each item of additional service is furnished subject to payment of charges for the period specified under Paragraph 1.2.7.

The fact that a deposit has been made, or a guaranty provided, shall in no way relieve the customer from complying with the Telephone Company's regulations as to the prompt payment of bills, nor constitute a waiver or modification of the regular practices of the Telephone Company providing for the termination of the service contract for nonpayment of bills.

Service may be discontinued for failure to furnish a suitable deposit, when conditions appear to require the Telephone Company to have such credit protection, after the Telephone Company has furnished five days' written notice to the customer requiring the customer to furnish such deposit. If, in the judgment of the Telephone Company, unusual risk of financial loss exists, service may be discontinued after 48 hours' written notice has been furnished to the customer.

Any balance of the amount deposited and credited to the customer's account is returned to the customer at the termination of the contract, or it may be returned at any time previous thereto at the option of the Telephone Company when it is deemed that the customer has established satisfactory credit.

1.2.7 Minimum Contract Period and Termination of Service

- BY 2nd RS 4 JUL 28 1984
PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION
- A. Minimum Contract Periods - The minimum contract period of service is one month.
- B. Termination of Service at Customer's Request - The service may be terminated by the Telephone Company at the request of the customer at any time, subject to payment of all charges for the period service is rendered, except that, if such termination occurs within the minimum contract period, charges shall apply for the minimum contract period.

1.2.8 Service Agreements

An application for service becomes a contract upon the establishment of service. Requests for additional service, upon the establishment thereof, become a part of the original contract, except that each item of additional service is furnished subject to payment of charges for the period specified under Paragraph 1.2.7.
