

27. SERVICE CHARGES - CONNECTIONS, MOVES AND CHANGES

27.1 Multi-Element Non-Recurring Charges

Multi-element non-recurring charges are applicable for the following activities resulting from a customer's request.

- Service Order Charge (S);
- Line Connection Charge (L);
- Installation Expedite Charge (E);
- Trouble Isolation Charge (T)

(N)

These charges are in addition to all other applicable rates and charges associated with the service being provided.

The charges specified herein do not contemplate work being performed by the Company employees at a time when overtime wages apply, due to the request of the customer, nor do they contemplate work begun being interrupted by the customer. If the customer requests overtime labor being performed or interrupts work once begun, a charge in addition to the specific charges may be made for the additional cost involved.

Unless specified elsewhere in this Tariff, customers may, at their option and upon concurrence by the Company, enter into a non-recurring charge installment payment arrangement of equal installments. The maximum length of contract period will be 90 days (three billing cycles) beginning with the customer bill following the activity related to the non-recurring charge.

At any time during the contract period, customers may pay the balance due of the installment contract which concurrently terminates the installment payment arrangement. The obligation of one customer under contract generally may not be transferred to another party unless such action is required by the Company to collect payments in default.

The "Service Order Charge" (S) applies for work (each service order) done in receiving, recording, and processing information necessary to execute a customer's request for installations of service, moves and/or changes and rearrangements. The "Service Order Charge - Record Change" will apply for each order involving customer initiated "records only" service orders except for orders affecting a billing address change and orders notifying the Company that the customer is providing his own equipment.

The "Installation Expedite Charge" (E) applies for specific customer requests to have a complex service installed sooner than within the normal installation interval. Complex service is defined in this instance as any service request that installs or relocates 5 or more single party lines, Centrex lines, and PBX or DID Trunks. Complex services also include any intra or interexchange private line, digital data, 1.544 Mbps or higher circuits, ISDN services, and FX services.

The "Trouble Isolation Charge" (T) applies for each visit by the Telephone Company to the premises of the customer, or authorized user, where the difficulty or trouble report is the result of something other than the Telephone Company, such as, but not limited to, the customer's inside wiring or from the use of equipment provided by the customer or authorized user. The charge does not include any further isolation work beyond the Telephone Company's specified demarcation point.

30. OPTIONAL SERVICES

30.1 Custom Calling Service

A. General Regulations

Custom Calling Services are optional telephone service arrangements which provide one or more of the following features:

Call Waiting

Alerts a customer who is using his telephone that another caller is trying to reach him.

Call Forwarding

Permits a customer to transfer all incoming calls to another telephone number within the exchange or on the Long Distance Telecommunications Network where facilities permit. The Call Forwarding customer is responsible for the payment of charges for each call between his Call Forwarding equipped telephone and the telephone to which the call is being forwarded. The transmission may vary depending on the distance and routing necessary, therefore, transmission may not meet normal standards.

Three Way Calling

Enables a customer to add a third party to an existing call without operator assistance, thereby establishing a three-way conversation. The transmission may vary depending on the distance and routing necessary, therefore, transmission may not meet normal standards.

Speed Calling

Eight-Code Capacity - enables a customer to place calls to other telephone numbers by dialing a one-digit code rather than the complete telephone number.

Thirty-Code Capacity - enables a customer to place calls to other telephone numbers by dialing a two-digit code rather than the complete telephone number.

Custom Calling Services will be provided in connection with one-party residence and business service. Party line, P(A)BX, and coin telephone services are excluded.

The service will be furnished only at locations where adequate and suitable facilities are available.

Other facilities requested by customers and not detrimental to this service or other services of the Telephone Company will be furnished in accordance with regulations and at the rates specified in the applicable sections of this Tariff.

30.2 ALLST*R Service

A. Applications

ALLST*R Service is a group of central office call management features offered in addition to basic telephone service. ALLST*R Service consists of the following features:

B. Definitions of Feature Offerings

1. Call Return

This feature enables a customer to place a call to the telephone number associated with the most recent call received, whether or not the call was answered or the number is known. When the customer dials a code, the number of the last caller is announced, unless the telephone number of the last incoming call was suppressed either via per call or per line blocking, or unless the last call was from outside the serving area. The customer presses ONE to request that the network place the call.

If the called line is not busy, the call is placed. If the called line is busy, a confirmation announcement is heard, the customer hangs up, and a queuing process begins. For the next 30 minutes, both the calling and the called lines are checked periodically for availability to complete the call. If during this queuing process the called line becomes idle, the customer is notified, via a distinctive ring, that the network is ready to place the call. When the customer picks up the telephone, the call will automatically be placed.

2. Repeat Dialing

Repeat Dialing, when activated, automatically redials the last number the customer attempted to call. If the called line is not busy, the call will be placed. If the called line is busy, a confirmation announcement is heard, the customer hangs up and a queuing process begins. For the next 30 minutes, both the calling and called lines are checked periodically for availability to complete the call. 30. OPTIONAL SERVICES (Continued)

B. Definitions of Feature Offerings (Continued)

3. Call Selector

Call Selector provides a distinctive ringing pattern to the subscribing customer for calls received from specific telephone numbers.

The customer creates a screening list of telephone numbers through an interactive dialing sequence. When a call is received from one of the predetermined telephone numbers, the customer is alerted with a distinctive ringing pattern (short, long, short). Calls from telephone numbers not included on the screening list will produce a normal ring. (D)

If the customer subscribes to Call Waiting in Section 30 of this Tariff and a call is received from a telephone number on the Call Selector screening list while the line is in use, the Call Waiting tone will also be distinctive.

When a telephone number on the Call Selector screening list also appears on the Preferred Call Forwarding list, the Preferred Call Forwarding will take precedence. Likewise, when the same number is shown on the Selective Call Rejection list, the call will be blocked.

A customer's line will not produce a distinctive alert if the calling line is not referenced to and originated by the main telephone number or a Telephone Number identified number that represents all the lines in a collection of lines, such as multi-line hunt groups.

4. Preferred Call Forwarding

Preferred Call Forwarding allows the customer to transfer selected calls to another telephone number. A screening list of numbers is created by the customer and placed in the network memory via an interactive dialing sequence. Subsequently, calls are forwarded to the Call Forwarding telephone number only if the calling number can be obtained and is found to match a number on the screening list. (D)

If the customer also subscribes to Selective Call Rejection and the same telephone number is entered on both screening lists, the Selective Call Rejection features must be deactivated to allow the call to forward.

This feature will not work if the calling line is not referenced to and originated by the main telephone number, or a Telephone Number identified number that represents all the lines in a collection of lines such as multi-line hunt groups.

3. Call Selector

Call Selector provides a distinctive ringing pattern to the subscribing customer for calls received from specific telephone numbers.

The customer creates a screening list of up to six telephone numbers through an interactive dialing sequence. When a call is received from one of the predetermined telephone numbers, the customer is alerted with a distinctive ringing pattern (short, long, short). Calls from telephone numbers not included on the screening list will produce a normal ring.

If the customer subscribes to Call Waiting in Section 30 of this Tariff and a call is received from a telephone number on the Call Selector screening list while the line is in use, the Call Waiting tone will also be distinctive.

When a telephone number on the Call Selector screening list also appears on the Preferred Call Forwarding list, the Preferred Call Forwarding will take precedence. Likewise, when the same number is shown on the Selective Call Rejection list, the call will be blocked.

A customer's line will not produce a distinctive alert if the calling line is not referenced to and originated by the main telephone number or a Telephone Number identified number than represents all the lines in a collection of lines, such as multi-line hunt groups.

4. Preferred Call Forwarding

Preferred Call Forwarding allows the customer to transfer selected calls to another telephone number. A screening list of up to six numbers is created by the customer and placed in the network memory via an interactive dialing sequence. Subsequently, calls are forwarded to the Call Forwarding telephone number only if the calling number can be obtained and is found to match a number on the screening list.

If the customer also subscribes to Selective Call Rejection and the same telephone number is entered on both screening lists, the Selective Call Rejection features must be deactivated to allow the call to forward.

This feature will not work if the calling line is not referenced to and originated by the main telephone number, or a Telephone Number identified number that represents all the lines in a collection of lines such as multi-line hunt groups.

5. Selective Call Rejection

This feature provides the customer the ability to prevent incoming calls from specified telephone numbers.

A screening list is created by the customer either by adding the last number associated with the line (incoming or outgoing), or by pre-selecting the telephone numbers to be blocked. When a call is placed to the customer's number from a number on the screening list, the caller receives an announcement indicating that the party he is attempting to call does not wish to receive calls at this time.

If the customer also subscribes to Preferred Call Forwarding and/or Call Selector and the same telephone numbers appear on those screening lists, Selective Call Rejection will take precedence.

This feature will not work if the incoming call is from a telephone number in a multi-line hunt group, unless the telephone number is the main telephone number for the hunt group, or is Telephone Number identified.

6. Selective Call Accept

This feature provides the customer the ability to screen incoming calls against a list of subscriber-specified directory numbers and then accepts any calls only from those specified directory numbers.

A screening list is created by the customer either by adding the last number associated with the line (incoming or outgoing), or by pre-selecting the telephone numbers to be accepted. When a call is placed to the customer's number from a number not on the screening list, the call receives an announcement indicating that the party he is attempting to call does not wish to receive calls at this time.

7. Call Tracing

Call Tracing enables the customer to initiate an automatic trace of the last call received.

Upon activation by the customer, the network automatically sends a message to the Company indicating the calling number, the time the call was received, and the time the trace was activated. The customer using this feature would be required to contact the local business office for further action. The customer is not provided the traced number. The results of a trace will be furnished only to legally constituted authorities upon proper request by them.

Only calls from within the same ALLST*R Service capable area are traceable using Call Tracing.

This feature will not work if the incoming call is from a telephone number in a multi-line hunt group, unless the telephone number is the main telephone number in the hunt group, or is Telephone Number identified.

If the customer makes or receives another call after hanging up from the annoying call, prior to activating the trace, Call Tracing will not record the correct number.

8. Caller ID

This feature enables the customer to view on a display unit the Directory Number (DN) on incoming telephone calls.

When Caller ID is activated on a customer's line, the Directory Numbers of incoming calls are displayed on the called CPE during the first long silent interval of the ringing cycle.

Any ALLTEL Missouri calling party may prevent the delivery of the calling party number (CPN) to the called party by dialing an access code immediately prior to placing a call. The access code activates per call blocking. Per call blocking is available at no charge. The blocking of CPN will not be provided on calls originating from Customer-Owned Pay telephone Service. 30.5 Voice Messaging Integration

MO. PUBLIC SERVICE COMM

A. General

1. Voice Messaging Integration (VMI) is a feature that provides an integrated automated interface to voice messaging providers for use by their subscribers (end users). A voice messaging subscriber (end user) may forward calls to the voice mail provider when that person's line is busy or when he or she is not available to answer the call. By subscribing to the appropriate call forwarding feature, call related information is passed to the voice messaging provider (e.g., called-station number, calling station number, type of forwarding situation, etc.) over a data link. This information enables the message system to properly receive and store a message presented to it over the associated voice line, without requiring the calling party to enter additional digits.
2. VMI provides the voice messaging provider's end users with the optional capability of receiving a message waiting indication. Message waiting indication can be provided by either stuttered dial tone or by a message waiting light on telephones equipped with a light feature. Upon receipt of a message waiting indication, the end-user may either retrieve the message or ignore the signal and place a call in the usual manner. Message waiting indication will continue until the message has been retrieved and a signal has been received from the voice messaging equipment.

B. Regulations

1. The telephone numbers transmitted via VMI are intended solely for the use of the voice messaging provider. Resale of this information to any party is prohibited.
2. The Company will not deliver numbers subject to blocking activation by the calling party where the Company has deployed per line blocking. Such numbers could include telephone numbers associated with non-published and non-listed service as described in Section 32 of this tariff. Information will be delivered within the SS7 serving area unless the delivery is blocked by the calling party through per line blocking in a central office within the SS7 serving area. Should a customer request interswitch delivery of calling information, private line facilities may be required at the rates and charges specified in the Company's private line tariff.
3. Access lines, arranged in a Uniform Call Distribution (UCD) group, are used to carry the voice transmission between each central office and the voice messaging provider's equipment. The provider of the voice messaging equipment will determine the quantity of access lines necessary to meet his call completion specifications. The Company accepts no responsibility for uncompleted calls should an insufficient number of access lines be ordered.
4. All customer provided equipment must be compatible with the Company's central office, and voice and data lines.
5. VMI is furnished subject to the availability of facilities, features, and central office equipment in locations as determined by the company.

30.8 Remote Call Forwarding

30.8.1 General

Remote Call Forwarding (RCF) is a local exchange service that utilizes a telephone number (the RCF telephone number) and central office facilities by which all incoming calls to the RCF telephone number are forwarded automatically to the RCF subscriber's central office line (the terminating telephone number) in a different exchange. The central office line on which the remote call terminates cannot be equipped with Call Forwarding or Remote Call Forwarding. RCF will not be provided when the terminating telephone number is within the same Local Calling Area of the call forwarding central office.

30.8.2 Regulations

- a. RCF service is offered in Central Offices, where facilities permit.
- b. RCF paths may be used singly, in groups, or as overflow paths for foreign exchange trunk groups. Only one forwarding number is permitted per group.
- c. RCF is not offered where the calls are terminated to a coin telephone.
- d. Identification of the originating telephone number is not provided to the RCF customer.
- e. Transmission characteristics may vary depending on the distance and routing necessary to complete the remotely forwarded call.
- f. RCF is not represented as suitable for the satisfactory transmission of data.
- g. RCF is provided on condition that the customer subscribe to sufficient RCF paths and terminating facilities to adequately handle calls to the RCF customer without interfering with or impairing any other services offered by the Telephone Company.
- h. Service Connection Charges as specified in the Rates and Charges section following may also apply.
- i. Charges for the call to the Remote Call Forwarding number shall be the responsibility of the calling party.
- j. The RCF subscribing customer is responsible for any toll charges that are incurred for the portion of the calls between the Remote Call Forwarding number and the terminating number.
- k. RCF subscribing customers cannot subscribe to any optional flat rate calling plans for the RCF telephone (forwarding) number.
- l. Each RCF group is entitled to one alphabetical (White Page) and one classified (Yellow Page - Business customers only) listing at no additional charge in the directory which serves the associated RCF central office. (Overflow paths associated with foreign exchange trunk groups are not listed.) All other listing regulations for business individual lines apply, except that no charge applies for non-published service in connection with RCF.
- m. Installation, changes, and reprogramming of the Central Office forwarding phone numbers will be performed by the Telephone Company per customer service order request.
- n. RCF service provides for handling only one call at a time. An additional RCF service is required for each additional call to be handled while the first call continues.
- o. When the RCF customer receives a business directory listing, calls will not be forwarded to a company provided telephone number for which residential rates apply.

32. DIRECTORY LISTINGS

32.1 General Regulations

Directory listing regulations apply only to listings that appear in the alphabetical section of the telephone directory containing the regular alphabetical list of names of customers and joint users.

One (1) listing is furnished without charge to each customer or joint user service subscriber in conformity to the Telephone Company's practices with respect to its directories. Listings are intended primarily for the purpose of identification and are limited to information which is essential to such identification. Directories are furnished only as an aid to the use of the telephone service facilities and the Telephone Company reserves the right to refuse to insert any listing in its directories which does not facilitate telephone service.

The length of any listing is normally limited to one line by the use of abbreviations when the clearness of the listing and the identification of the customer are not impaired thereby. When more than one line is required to properly list the customer, no additional charge is made.

The Telephone Company will refuse to list in the alphabetical section of the telephone directory, any listing which does not constitute a legally authorized and adopted name, and/or any name which is likely to mislead or deceive the public as to the identity of the customer, or which is inserted for advertising purposes, or which is more elaborate than is reasonably necessary to identify the customer. The Telephone Company will withdraw any listing which is found to violate the above rule.

When a customer contracts for more than one individual line of the same class of service and at the same location, consecutive telephone numbers may be assigned to such lines and in such cases, only one listing is provided without charge.

Upon written request, (service order), a customer's listing may be omitted from both the telephone directory and the Telephone Company's Directory Assistance Service records at a monthly rate of $2.99. Connections with such non-published stations may be completed only when requested by telephone number, or in case of extreme emergency when such emergency is stated by the calling party.

32. DIRECTORY LISTINGS

32.1 General Regulations

Directory listing regulations apply only to listings that appear in the alphabetical section of the telephone directory containing the regular alphabetical list of names of customers and joint users.

One (1) listing is furnished without charge to each customer or joint user service subscriber in conformity to the Telephone Company's practices with respect to its directories. Listings are intended primarily for the purpose of identification and are limited to information which is essential to such identification. Directories are furnished only as an aid to the use of the telephone service facilities and the Telephone Company reserves the right to refuse to insert any listing in its directories which does not facilitate telephone service.

The length of any listing is normally limited to one line by the use of abbreviations when the clearness of the listing and the identification of the customer are not impaired thereby. When more than one line is required to properly list the customer, no additional charge is made.

The Telephone Company will refuse to list in the alphabetical section of the telephone directory, any listing which does not constitute a legally authorized and adopted name, and/or any name which is likely to mislead or deceive the public as to the identity of the customer, or which is inserted for advertising purposes, or which is more elaborate than is reasonably necessary to identify the customer. The Telephone Company will withdraw any listing which is found to violate the above rule.

When a customer contracts for more than one individual line of the same class of service and at the same location, consecutive telephone numbers may be assigned to such lines and in such cases, only one listing is provided without charge.

Upon written request, (service order), a customer's listing may be omitted from both the telephone directory and the Telephone Company's Directory Assistance Service records at a monthly rate of $1.00. Connections with such non-published stations may be completed only when requested by telephone number, or in case of extreme emergency when such emergency is stated by the calling party.

36. SEMI-PUBLIC TELEPHONE SERVICE

36.1 General Regulations

Semi-public telephone service is an arrangement under which a business subscriber station is equipped with a coin collection device of which the receipts will be collected by the subscriber. This service is designed for a combination of subscriber and public usage, and will be furnished, on individual lines only, at the following types of locations:

In locations, where, in the opinion of the Telephone Company the installation of a public telephone is not warranted but, where there is an appreciable demand for service on the part of the public.

At locations where, in the opinion of the Telephone Company, there is a collective use of the service by a relatively stable body of guests, members, employees, or occupants.

At any location where, in the opinion of the Telephone Company, the demand for service is for a combination of public and subscriber usage.

Extension stations may be provided in connection with semi-public telephone service at the regular established rates. Extension stations are not equipped with coin boxes or dials, and are intended only for the answering of incoming calls.

Subscribers to semi-public telephone service are entitled to regular listings in the Telephone Company's official directory and may advertise such numbers for incoming calls and business purposes subject to rules and regulations otherwise specified in this tariff.

One (1) directory listing per semi-public telephone may be provided without additional charge.

Any additional signals required in the provision of this service may be provided at the rates and charges set forth under supplemental equipment services in this section.

Flat rate telephone service may be provided on the same premises as a semi-public telephone providing it is not made available for public use.

If the coin box is tampered with, the Company may upon its own initiative and without written notice, remove the telephone. However, if the customer desires to retain telephone service, the Company will furnish service at rates set out in the local exchange tariff, using non-coin equipment.

The Company is not obligated to furnish semi-public telephone service when facilities are not readily available.

36.2 American Disabilities Act of 1990

The American Disabilities Act of 1990 requires that all public payphones installed on or after January 26, 1992, be equipped with 1) Push Button Service, 2) Public Call and Assist, and 2) volume control on at least one public telephone per customer location.

36.3 Rates

Local messages are charged at the rate of twenty cents ($.25) each. Toll messages are charged at the established rates of the appropriate toll carrier.

37. FOREIGN EXCHANGE SERVICE

37.1 General Regulations

MISSOURI
Public Service Commission

Foreign Exchange Service is exchange service from an exchange other than the one which would normally serve the customer.

Foreign Exchange Service does not come within the Telephone Company's general undertaking, nor does the Telephone Company obligate itself to furnish such service generally, but will do so where facilities of such a character are available as will permit satisfactory telephone transmission. It will not be provided when there may be a resulting impairment of service or when undue expense is involved.

Foreign Exchange Service is offered between all exchanges of this Company and between exchanges of this Company and other companies located within the same LATA and within boundaries of this state. It will be furnished jointly with other companies only after satisfactory arrangements are made with the connecting company to provide its portion of the circuit.

Only individual line or PBX trunk foreign exchange service is furnished.

Off-premise extensions will be furnished in accordance with the tariff provisions of the local exchange providing facilities and operating conditions permit. Off-premises extension stations will be furnished only for the use of the subscriber.

Foreign exchange service is furnished for the exclusive use of the subscriber, his employees, agents or representatives of the business establishment. If this provision is violated and the use of the service extended to other persons, the Company may, without notice, terminate the service and remove its equipment. Where circumstances justify such actions, the Company may waive its right to terminate the service. Such action shall not be construed as a waiver of its right to terminate the service should further violations occur.

Where the foreign exchange is operated by another telephone company, foreign exchange service will be provided only when satisfactory arrangements can be negotiated with such company to furnish a portion of the necessary facilities.

37.2 Rates

The applicable monthly business one party rate shall apply as well as applicable mileage and/or other monthly, miscellaneous service charges.

A monthly charge, or fraction thereof, shall apply on interexchange mileage between the central office involved. The Company concurs with the interexchange rates filed and approved by the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company of Missouri for mileage and other associated rates and charges associated with providing foreign exchange service.

39 ISDN PRIMARY RATE ACCESS (PRA)

39 1 GENERAL

(N)

39 1 1 Integrated Services Digital Network (ISDN) architecture provides two access methods that connect customers' premises to network switching systems, Primary Rate Access (PRA) for large quantities of connections and Basic Rate Access (BRA) for smaller numbers of connections. PRA facilities are typically used for business only.

39 1 2 PRA is an optional service arrangement that must be configured with 24 PBX Trunks. This service arrangement uses the ISDN architecture to provide the customer with the capability to transmit voice and data simultaneously over the same digital facility. Under various optional arrangements, PRA provides the customer with access to Circuit Switched Voice Services and Circuit Switched Data Services. In general, this tariff addresses standardized National ISDN-2 (NI-2) capabilities and features.

39 1 3 PRA is offered on Term Payment Plans of 12, 24, 36, 48 or 60 months.

39 2 PRIMARY RATE INTERFACE SERVICE ARRANGEMENT

39 2 1 PRA Service Arrangement connects an ISDN-capable Telephone Company central office switch to ISDN-capable Class II Customer Premises Equipment (CPE). Depending on the application, the CPE might be a PBX, a router, a multiplexer, etc. Each PRA service arrangement provides twenty-three or twenty-four digital communications channels.

These communication channels can be either B (Bearer) Channels or D (Delta) Channels.

39 2 2 B Channel - The B Channel is a bi-directional synchronous channel capable of supporting digital transmission speeds of 56 kilobits per second (kbps) or 64 kilobits per second, where available. Each B Channel of an Advanced Digital Services PRA may carry:

A Circuit Switched Voice

B Circuit Switched Data

39 2 3 D Channel - The D Channel is a 56 or 64 kbps digital signaling channel that carries signaling and control for the B Channels.

39 2 4 Primary Rate Access Facility - The Primary Rate Access Facility provides a high-capacity digital link over which the Advanced Digital Services PRA capabilities are delivered. This facility is based on a 1.544 Mbps DS1 carrier (T1 facility). The typical PRA Access Facility configuration is known as 23B+D, where twenty-three of the channels are B Channels and one is a D Channel.

39 2 PRIMARY RATE INTERFACE SERVICE ARRANGEMENT (CONT'D)

(N)

39 2 5 Multiple PRA Facility Arrangement - There may be situations where more than 23 B Channels are needed at a particular customer premise. In those situations, depending on facility availability, multiple PRA facilities can be assigned to an Advanced Digital Services PRA Service Arrangement. With the Multiple PRA Facility Arrangement, the D Channel in the first PRA facility is used to transport signaling for up to four additional PRA facilities. The first facility would be configured as 23B+D and the other facilities would be configured as 24B. This use of Non-Facility Associated Signaling (NFAS) allows the overhead of the D Channel to be distributed over a maximum of 119 B Channels (up to 5 PRA facilities), thereby increasing channel efficiency.

39 2 6 D Channel Backup - In Multiple PRA Facility Arrangements, a second D Channel can be assigned (where available) as an automatic backup to the primary D Channel to provide redundancy of the signaling channel.

39 2 7 Distance Extension Charge - provides an additional approximately one mile of transmission facility beyond the 12,000 ft provided with the PRA Facility. If a customer is located a great distance from the Company central office, it is possible that several Disaffect Extension Charges could be required per PRA Facility.

39 3 CIRCUIT SWITCHED SERVICE DESCRIPTIONS

39 3 1 Circuit Switching is a switching arrangement in which an entire circuit or B Channel is dedicated to a given call. The circuit is connected on a per-call basis and can carry circuit switched voice or circuit switched data. Circuit switched related services include:

39 3 2 Clear Channel Capability - This feature is a characteristic of the transmission paths on the B Channels that allows the full bandwidth of 64 kbps to be available to the customer. (Clear Channel Capability cannot be guaranteed outside the serving central office. Inneroffice traffic may be subrated to 56 kbps.) Clear Channel Capability is applicable to CPE that supports clear channel capability.

39 3 3 Dedicated Trunk Groups - The B Channels of PRA can be dedicated for calls to and from the public network. Trunk Group types include Incoming, Outgoing, 2-way, Direct Outward Dialing (DOD) or Direct Inward Dialing (DID).

39.3 CIRCUIT SWITCHED SERVICE DESCRIPTIONS (CONT'D)

(N)

39.3.4 Primary Rate Call-by-Call Service - The Primary Rate Call-by-Call feature offers access to additional services via the B Channels of PRA. These additional services include

- Foreign Exchange
- OutWATS
- InWATS

With this feature, any B Channel can be used to offer the above services on a per-call basis, in addition to supporting trunk calls to/from the public network (i.e., DOD/DID)

Simulated Facility Groups (SFG) are used to control the number of B Channels that can be used for a particular service or for calls to the public network. The SFG is a logical relationship between the services (or public network calls) and the number of B Channels. Any B Channel may be used for any service (or for public network calls) provided the actual number of calls currently active for that service does not exceed the maximum-allowed value associated within the SFG.

39.3.5 Directory Numbers - Directory numbers may be purchased at rates specified in Section 39.6 below

39.3.6 Caller ID (Number) - This feature allows the central office and the customer's suitably equipped CPE to communicate the calling party's directory number. On calls carried by the PRA, the number can then be made available to be displayed on a properly equipped telephone set or adjunct equipment.

39.3.7 Caller ID (Name) - This feature (where available) allows the central office and the customer's suitably equipped CPE to communicate calling party name information (associated with the calling party's directory number) on calls carried by the PRA. The name can then be made available to be displayed on a properly equipped telephone set or adjunct equipment.

39.3.8 Two B-Channel Transfer - For calls forwarded in a PBX environment, 2 B-Channel transfer will reduce holding time in the system by releasing the original incoming call to the first party after the call has been transferred to the second party. This feature will free up one trunk in each transfer situation.

39.5 REGULATIONS AND CONDITIONS (CONT'D)

(N)

39.5.2 PRA and its optional services are furnished subject to central office switching capacity, capability, and the availability of outside plant facilities

A The availability, functionality, and capabilities of PRA may vary, or may not be available, dependent upon type of serving central office switch, related software controlling that switch, and associated outside plant

(1) Where facilities are not available, or unusual expenditures are involved in making them available, the customer may be required to pay additional charges to cover the unusual expenditure, or to contract for services beyond the normal service term, or both

B Alternate Serving Arrangements Where the customer's serving central office is not PRA capable, the Company, at its discretion, may provide service from an alternate serving central office at no additional charge to the customer. Such provisioning may be elected when, at the discretion of the Company, the service can be provided at a reasonable cost to the Company. The customer must accept the serving location assigned by the Company, and must agree to revert to service from the normal serving central office when PRA is available in that office

(1) This arrangement may require that the customer accept a directory number change to a number associated with the alternate central office

(2) Calls that are originated by, and terminated to, a customer using this service arrangement will be billed as if the calls were placed from the customer's normal serving central office

(3) If such changes occur, the nonrecurring charge associated with the change will not be applicable. If the customer does not wish to take service from the normal central office after such service becomes available, but continues to use service from the alternate serving central office, charges for distance extensions (foreign exchange service or special outside facilities) will apply. If foreign exchange service is used, the rates for foreign exchanges will be applied in addition to the PRA rates. Any other special outside plant facilities used to provide PRA will be tariffed on an individual case basis

(4) The availability, functionality, and capabilities of PRA may vary when a customer's serving central office is equipped to provide such services

(5) Situations where the customer specifically requests service from a central office other than its normal serving central office will be handled on an individual case basis
