(FC) 1.2.3 Party Line Service Customer Premises Equipment Compatibility

A. Description

In order to insure billing accuracy, proper signal/ringing and proper functioning of Customer Premises Equipment (CPE) in connection with party line service, all CPE connected to party line service must be wired in a manner compatible with the customer's party line placement, or a party line instrument adapter must be connected to the exchange access line. For new party line service or for moves and changes of existing party line customers, before service can be established, service compatibility must be provided by installing a party line instrument adapter or by rewiring the instrument. For the purpose of this description, new service means a new connection of service or the outside move of existing service.

MO. PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION

B. Regulations

1. There are two options for providing party line service compatibility.
 - a. A party line instrument adapter may be installed. This device is an electronic unit which will isolate the ringing circuit of a party line station for all ringing signals, except the proper one assigned that station and provide Telephone company network and billing function compatibility with CPE. This option is required in all applications, except for that covered in Paragraph 1.2.3, B.1.b., following.
 - b. A party line customer who has a modifiable instrument has the option of having that instrument rewired to be compatible with their party line service. For the purposes of this Tariff, a modifiable instrument is only a Western Electric-manufactured, Bell-provided instrument that can be properly connected to party line service.
2. In those instances where the Telephone Company makes a repair visit to the customer's premises and the service difficulty or trouble results from the customer connecting an instrument or instruments to their party line local exchange access line and have not had the instrument rewired, if applicable, or have not had an instrument adapter installed, and billing errors, improper ringing and/or network trouble results, the customer is subject to Maintenance of Service Charges in addition to the applicable charges for installing a party line instrument adapter.
3. The Telephone Company assumes no responsibility for customer instruments, which are modified under the conditions of this Tariff by Company technicians at the customer's request, that subsequently malfunction.

These services are available to one-party customers where facilities exist.
