(a) During distribution line construction, the Company will notify potential customers (building owners) of the availability of natural gas service. To become eligible for a no charge conversion, potential customers must sign a service order, requesting conversion or installation of approved units, as specified on Sheet 67.

(b) No-charge installations and conversions for residential and commercial customers are limited to those for which Company expenditures will be no more than $200.00 in total (per customer) for labor, pipe, fittings, appliance regulators, standard orifice conversion kits and all other necessary materials for approved units.

(c) No-charge installations and conversions for single family or single commercial buildings are limited to one occupied building for each building lot.

(d) The building owner will be responsible for notifying occupants of the conversion or installation.

(e) Installation and conversion costs (for approved units) in excess of $200.00 for residential and commercial customers may be performed by the Company at its sole election and, if so performed, will be recovered by the Company via a pro rata monthly charge added to the customer's monthly gas bill for a period of up to 24 months.

(3) Where conditions are feasible and qualified personnel are available, the Company may install concealed piping, additional piping and special conversion kits. Under these circumstances, customers will be billed according to labor rate and other charges specified on Sheet No. 66.
