ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION FOR A CLOSE CORPORATION

The undersigned natural persons of the age of eighteen years or more for the purpose of forming a statutory close corporation under the General and Business Corporation Law of Missouri adopt the following Articles of Incorporation:

ARTICLE I - NAME

The name of the corporation is Aurora Communications, Inc. and it is a statutory close corporation.

ARTICLE II -- AGENT

The name and address of its initial registered agent is: Mr. Fred Becker, Suite 101, 214 Elm Street, Washington, MO 63090.

ARTICLE III — SHARES

The corporation shall be authorized to issue thirty-thousand (30,000) shares of common stock with no par value and no restrictions except those listed below.

ARTICLE IV — TRANSFER OF STOCK SECTION A

The transfer of shares by a living shareholder, including any transfers from a trust which are not part of the termination of the trust may only be accomplished as follows:

- a) The transfer prohibitions of Mo. Rev. Stat. §351.765 as modified below apply to any transfers of the shares of this close corporation. A person or trust desiring to transfer shares of this corporation shall first offer them to the corporation after obtaining an offer to purchase the shares for cash from a third person who is eligible to purchase the shares under subsection b) of this section. The offer by the third person must be in writing and state the offeror's name and address, the number and class, or series, of shares offered, the offering price per share, and the other terms of the offer including those set forth below
- b) A third person is eligible to purchase the shares if:(1) the purchaser is eligible to become a qualified shareholder under any federal or state tax statute the corporation has adopted and he agrees in writing not to terminate his qualification without the approval of the remaining shareholders; and (2) the purchase of the shares will not impose a personal holding company tax or similar federal or state penalty tax on the corporation.
- c) The person desiring to transfer shares shall deliver the offer to the corporation, and by doing so offers to sell the shares to the corporation or its shareholders on the terms of the offer. Said offer shall include either: (1) proof of finance by either sufficient shares of publically traded stock or a cashier's check sufficient to meet the offer's purchase price, or (2) a letter of commitment and credit from a bank in good standing with the FDIC sufficient to meet the offered purchase price. Within twenty days after the corporation receives the offer, the corporation shall call a special shareholders' meeting, to be held not more than forty days after the call, to decide whether the corporation should purchase all, but not less than all, of the offered shares. The offer must be approved by the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of votes entitled to be cast at the meeting, excluding votes in respect of the shares covered by the offer.

- d) The corporation shall deliver to the offering shareholder written notice of acceptance within seventy-five days after receiving the offer or the offer is rejected. If the corporation accepts the original offer, the shareholder shall deliver to the corporation duly endorsed certificates for the shares, or instruct the corporation in writing to transfer the shares if uncertificated, within twenty days after the effective date of the notice of acceptance. The corporation may specifically enforce the shareholder's delivery or instruction obligation under this subsection.
- e) A corporation accepting an offer to purchase shares under this section may allocate some or all of the shares to one or more of its shareholders or to other persons if all the shareholders voting in favor of the purchase approve the allocation.
- If the corporation rejects the offer to purchase the shares under this section, then the individual stockholders of voting shares shall have the opportunity to purchase all, but not less than all, of the shares under the terms of the offer tendered to the corporation. The shareholders shall have the option of purchasing the shares in to following order: (1) descending order based on seniority of ownership; (3) ties within the second parameter shall be resolved by randomizing the shareholders. A group of eligible shareholders may elect to purchase the shares and divide them amongst the group in a manner acceptable to all members of the group which is set forth in writing; the group's priority in the order of purchasing shall be the priority of the member with the highest priority. Said writing may impose additional restrictions, conditions, limits, and procedures on the shareholding group which shall be binding as long as they do not otherwise violate the procedures described herein. The corporation may, however, in the shareholder meeting in which the corporation's acceptance of the offer is considered and rejected, with a majority vote of the outstanding shares excepting those shares covered by the offer, suspend all but not less than all individual shareholders' ability to accept the offer as described in this paragraph.
- g) If a shareholder or group of shareholders elects to accept an offer under this section, then they shall so notify the offering shareholder within fourteen (14) days following rejection by the corporation as a whole.
- h) If an offer to purchase shares under this section is rejected by both the corporation and all the voting shareholders or if the corporation rejects the offer and suspends the individual shareholders' ability to accept the offer, the offering shareholder, for a period of sixty-two (62) days after the corporation rejected his offer, is entitled to transfer to the third person offeror all, but not less than all, of the offered shares in accordance with the terms of his offer to the corporation.

SECTION B

The transfer of shares by the estate of a deceased shareholder or any transfers caused by the termination of a trust for the death of a beneficiary or any other reason, except as provided for in Mo. Rev. Stat. § 351.765 as modified below, shall be as follows:

- a) The estate or trust transferring the shares of this statutory close corporation, or a person receiving them under operation of law, hereafter called "the offering shareholder," shall first have the stock appraised by an appraiser certified by the state of Missouri. The offering shareholder shall submit to the corporation a writing, hereafter called "the report," containing the number and class, or series, of the shares in question; the appraisal; and, in the case of an estate or trust the name and address of the proposed recipients of the transfer, or, in the case of a recipient by operation of law, his or her name and address. The report shall also contain notification if the proposed recipient or offering shareholder who received the shares by operation of law will impose a personal holding company tax or similar federal or state penalty tax on the corporation. The tender of the report shall constitute an offer to sell the stock to the corporation or its individual voting shareholders.
- b) Upon receipt of the report, the corporation shall have the shares described in the report appraised by an appraiser certified by the state of Missouri. The two appraisals shall then be averaged to arrive at the value of the stock subject to the transfer. This value shall be the amount of the offer.
- c) Within twenty days after the corporation receives the offer, the corporation shall call a special shareholders' meeting, to be held not more than forty days after the call, to decide whether the corporation should purchase all, but not less than all, of the offered shares. The offer must be approved by the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of votes entitled to be cast at the meeting, excluding votes in respect of the shares covered by the offer.
- d) The corporation shall deliver to the offering shareholder written notice of acceptance within seventy-five days after receiving the offer or the offer is rejected. If the corporation accepts the original offer, the offering shareholder shall deliver to the corporation duly endorsed certificates for the shares, or instruct the corporation in writing to transfer the shares if uncertificated, within twenty days after the effective date of the notice of acceptance. The corporation may specifically enforce the offering shareholder's delivery or instruction obligation under this subsection.
- e) A corporation accepting an offer to purchase shares under this section may allocate some or all of the shares to one or more of its shareholders or to other persons if all the shareholders voting in favor of the purchase approve the allocation.
- f) If the corporation rejects the offer to purchase the shares under this section, then the individual stockholders of voting shares shall have the opportunity to purchase all, but not less than all, of the shares under the terms of the offer tendered to the corporation. The shareholders shall have the option of purchasing the shares in to following order: (1) descending order based on seniority of ownership; (3) ties within the second parameter shall be resolved by randomizing the shareholders. A group of eligible shareholders may elect to purchase the shares and divide them amongst the group in a manner acceptable to all members of the group which is set forth in writing; the group's priority in the order of purchasing shall be the priority of the member with the highest priority. Said writing may impose additional restrictions, conditions, limits, and procedures on the shareholding group which shall be binding as long as they do not otherwise violate the procedures described herein. The corporation may, however, in the shareholder meeting in which the corporation's acceptance of the offer is considered and rejected, with a majority vote of the outstanding shares excepting those shares covered by the offer, suspend all but not less than all individual shareholders' ability to accept the offer as described in this paragraph.

- g) If a shareholder or group of shareholders elects to accept an offer under this section, then they shall so notify the offering shareholder within fourteen (14) days following rejection by the corporation as a whole.
- h) If an offer to purchase shares under this section is rejected by the corporation and either rejected by all the voting shareholders or the corporation suspends the rights of the other shareholders to individually accept the offer, then the offering shareholder, may either keep the shares received by operation of law or may transfer them to the persons designated in the report.

- d) Transfers to members of the shareholder's immediate family as defined in Mo. Rev. Stat. §351.765(2)(2) shall not be excluded.
- e) Transfers to other holders of the same class or series of shares as defined in Mo. Rev. Stat. §351.765(2)(1) shall not be excluded.
- f) Mo. Rev. Stat. §351.765(2)(3) shall be interpreted to mean all holders of the corporation's shares having general voting rights at the time of the signing of the writing provided the writing has a definite date after which the transfer is not allowed which is less than three years after the date of signing. Otherwise, approval must be by all holders of the corporation's shares having general voting rights at the time of the transfer.

g) Transfers by the corporation itself to any party shall be excluded.
