

Daren Ruhr, Dardenne Prairie, MO.

If service is disrupted in my area those residents who rely on natural gas to heat their homes, heat water, cook, or dry their clothes using natural gas appliances will be severely impacted, my household included. There will not be enough time to convert house wiring and appliances to electric as well as the high cost related to doing so. This will most likely result in the deaths of innocent people who cannot afford to make the costly change or force them out of their homes. Also, the electrical grid/infrastructure in our area is also not yet capable of the increased demand for electric power and will need time to be upgraded in order to do so. The closing of this pipeline would be foolish, reckless, and honestly dangerous to the coverage area population.
