When we received your reply, the Data Center changed the status of the annual report submitted from confidential to public. Therefore, you do not need to do anything else. Thank you for your prompt reply.

This is our first annual report filing and I did not fully understand the confidential election. Our filing should not have been marked confidential. How do I get this changed at this point?

Thanks,
Pat Shurley

Thank you for submitting the 2004 Competitive Local Exchange Carrier (CLEC) Annual Report to the Commission. I have reviewed the annual report and it does not meet the requirements for submission under seal (confidential). In order to be submitted as confidential the requirements outlined in the attached cover letter which was mailed with the annual report in January must be met.

<<AR2004_Cover_Letter_Telcommunication[1].pdf>>

Basically, a public version of the annual report needs to be submitted as a supplemental submission under the non-case related tracking number, BMAR-2005-0633 with the confidential information redacted. An affidavit describing what is being classified as confidential, why the information should be confidential and that it is not available to the public must also be included. In addition, the cover of the public annual report should be marked "public version". We can mark the original annual report submitted as "non-public version". We can also mark the page containing the confidential information as "non-public version" once you identify for us what information is to be classified as confidential.

Please call or email if you have any questions.
