Dear Mr. Clayton,

Here we go again! KCP&L wants a "quick fix rate hike"> It would seem to me that a company as big as KCP&L could do a better job of internal management. If the local paper had not exposed their spending of 3.6 million on lavish "fun & entertainment" items. the general public would never have known of such.

My wife and I are on a fixed income, both retired in our late 70's, and not very apt to see much of an increase in our income. We will have to do without something to pay the rate increase, if the commission is to grant the rate hike.

Just because the Federal government "bail out" money is available to companies & others who don't seem to have much common sense about spending, KCP&L want in on the game too. One doesn't have to be a rocket scientist to know if a company like KCP&L spends money they way they have been doing, it will catch up with you somewhere down the line. It would appear thaty it has now caught up, and they come crying for the customers to bail them out!

We are very much opposed to the request for a "quick rate" hike - let them figure out how to get out of the mess they got themselves into. Why should their customers have to pay for their poor judgment and lavish spending.

Sincerely,

Carl & Jackie Jordan
