

Chad Stephens, SAINT LOUIS, MO.
Hi,

I just received an email from Spire stating that the pipe line that provides natural gas to the city is under review. I can't believe this is a real thing but I guess I should believe it with the push to go green.

I don't have an electric system in place. I'm happy with my service and monthly costs. I find it a little difficult to believe there is enough renewable generation to offset the loss of natural gas right now.

Document Content(s)

117129.txt.....1