

EC-2023-0395

Brett Felber
VS
Ameren Missouri

I really do need the DR's I requested prior to the last hearing that the Respondent hasn't given to me or haven't been allowed to be compelled.

I believe I'm being setup for "trial ambush" from the PSC and the Respondent.

That being said those are key pieces that will show that the Respondent illegally disconnected utility services and on top of that, the Respondent breached the peace, trespassed private property and a handful of other things. Such one of the technicians not having proper identification or wearing a badge corresponding the the company that he worked for and his vehicle not displaying proper identification markings of who he worked for.

A hardhat and a vest doesn't constitute them as an employee. In Missouri they are required by law to wear a badge with proper identification when engaging or trespassing to private and personal property.

If the PSC or the Honorable Judge Clark decide to deny my motion then the Respondent should be excluded from being able to present or produce any information pertaining to these two key matters, as the Complainant has the right to question any new information given.

I also like how I was ghosted from the PSC and Respondent, again when offering to setup a conference regarding the payment agreement, but that is usually what happens when evidence doesn't point in favor of the company that they are allowing to coverup this matter with.

Can't wait for the evidentiary hearing that way we can talk about Watermarks. Maybe I'd like to present some Watermark paper too as an additional exhibit . Pretty sure Chicago Watermark, Xerox, The Paper Mill Company would disagree Respondent and the PSC.

Pretty sure the law doesn't allow Ameren to just jump fences also without there being a true emergency, as there wasn't a true emergency. Their claim of fraud of utility services are bogus, as the Respondents Counsel was upset because I sent a picture of a Christmas tree lit up.

In fact, you should see the Halloween Decorations that were put up. Just upgraded the generator to the premises to a 14,000 watt quiet inverter and two battery backup inverters at 4,000 watts.

If the Respondent and Commission would like pictures let me know? I believe the premises is being power by UNAMEREN.

Can't wait for the Kangaroo Court hearing this week!
