To whom this may concern. Since the Commission has had very little interest in resuming this option or allowing me to pursue action on this matter, I have no interest in this matter being decided in the hands of the Public Service Commission.

The only party that has been forced to oblige to not only extortion methods, but manipulation has been our business. Unfortunately, the PSC gave incorrect information on representation of this matter in which they specifically stated that the LLC couldn't be represented by a business partner, etc. Under Missouri State Statutes of Small Claims, a business partner or agent or attorney has the right under Missouri State Statutes to represent itself, if the claim is $ [REDACTED] or less.

Unfortunately, due the Commission making numerous errors, Thanksgiving & Christmas Holiday Traditions LLC has filed lawsuit against the PSC for numerous civil actions, including performance and several breaches which conclude in Missouri State Statutes.

At some point in time the PSC is going to have to decide in which and what they follow. No business or entity is exempt from following Missouri State Statutes. It is not fair to the customer or consumer that must put of up the Commission's performance or lack of performance and numerous breaches. The Commission only practices what they feel benefits them.

Since Thanksgiving & Christmas Holiday Traditions LLC has filed a lawsuit against the Missouri Public Service Commission in Cole County Courts, (case number [REDACTED]) the proper jurisdiction that we deem proper and just to hear this matter is the Cole County Civil Courts.

Suit was promptly filed against the Commission on December 1, 2023, by one of the business partners. Thanksgiving & Christmas Holiday Traditions LLC is not interested in a settlement in this matter and look forward to recourse all our losses that the Commission has put the business at its partners through because of their acts and actions.

Service of summons will be proceeded in the next week.

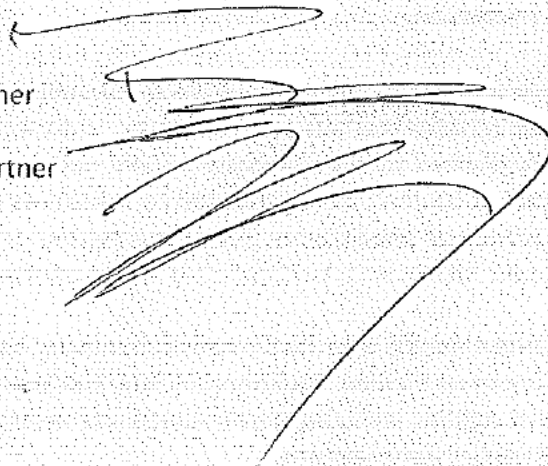

If the Commission wants to rectify their actions prior to any hearings, they are encouraged to call either business partner or entity owner Lisa or Brett at [REDACTED]
