These applications become contracts when accepted in writing by the Telephone Company, or upon the establishment of Service. CONSTRUCTION CHARGE

MISSOURI
Public Service Comm.

A. GENERAL

1. All rates and charges quoted in the Local Exchange Service Tariffs or in other parts of this tariff provide for the furnishing of service or channels when suitable facilities are available or where the construction of the necessary facilities does not involve unusual costs.
2. When the revenue to be derived from the service or facilities is not sufficient to warrant the Telephone Company assuming the unusual costs of providing the necessary construction, the subscriber may be required to pay, in advance, an amount to be determined by the company, which will assure the company recovery of their excess investment, (but not to exceed an amount estimated to cover charges for local, ~~and~~ and miscellaneous services for a five year period). EXTENSION STATIONS	MISSOURI Public Service Commission

1. Extension stations may be provided in connection with all classes of urban exchange service except public telephone service. In connection with semi-public service, extension stations are only furnished when they are essential to the efficient handling of service. When extension stations are installed in semi-public locations, they must be on the same premises. The subscriber assumes full responsibility for control of the usage of the extension station. Where the subscriber operates a business, and lives on the same premises, Combination Main Station rates apply.
2. Extension stations may be furnished in connection with rural line service provided they are located on the same premises as the main station. Extension stations on rural lines are provided only when such stations will not interfere with the satisfactory operation of the line.
3. Separate telephone numbers or other distinctive designations are not assigned to extension stations, and are not listed except as provided in the section entitled "Directory Listings" and no additional free listings are allowed in connection with the main station on account of the extension stations.
4. Extension stations must be so located that their use will be restricted to those entitled to use the subscriber's service, including joint users, as specified in "Subscriber Service" in these General Rules and Regulations.
5. Inter-communication is not contemplated between a main station and an extension station, or between extensions, (except with the use of wiring plans, Key equipment or Key telephone systems).
6. Where either the main or extension station is at a business location, business rates apply at both stations.
7. One bell (ordinary type) is furnished, if desired, with each extension station, and must be located at the extension station. The number of extension stations which may be connected with any main station may be restricted to three, except that one additional extension station may be bridged to either a main station or extension station in connection with individual line service, provided the number of bells to be rung at one time does not exceed four. The number of bells which may be connected for each rural subscriber is dependent on the circumstances in each case.

Rural line multi-party service will be furnished to applicants located outside the local Base Rate Area and on established pole lines, but within the local Exchange Area at the rates shown in the Local Exchange Service Tariff. Only the type or types of service for which a rate is quoted will be furnished. In no case will new contracts be accepted for less than five main station telephones per line, or the equivalent rate therefor.

No keys or switches for the purpose of cutting off all or a portion of the line from the central office are permitted except in the case of an extension station where a key may be provided for disconnecting it from the main station. Such keys may be furnished at the rates provided in the "Miscellaneous Equipment" section of this tariff.
