Grain Belt Express

On 2-2-13, a representative of Grain Belt Express stopped by to discuss the transmission line project on or adjacent to your property.

MONROE COUNTY
Grain Belt Express is an approximately 800-mile transmission line project that has been granted public utility status in Missouri and is now under new ownership of Invenergy Transmission. When built, it will deliver up to 4,000 megawatts of low-cost clean power from Western Kansas and the surrounding area to customers in Missouri and other states in the region.
