Subject: 24 Million for AmerenUE

Jeff, in the Post Dispatch yesterday it was stated the AmerenUE was trying to recover 24 million dollars related to the January ice storm, they are calling this a 'ACCOUNTING AUTHORITY ORDER', I call this 'CODB' which is the correct accounting heading and this means 'COST OF DOING BUSINESS' if I am correct AmerenUE should have already recovered these so called expenses from their own Insurance Companies. Like I have said to you in the past I am in favor of giving more when more is really needed but wouldn't you like to be able to request from someone else expense dollars every time you had problem which needed a solution! This is the questionable communication which AmerenUE continues too try to use to have us 'CONSUMERS' pay to them to run their business. This is simply a 'COST OF DOING BUSINESS' and should be part of their mark-up structure. Thanks for letting me vent my feelings to you. Harvey Rosenberg.
