Explanation of Why Rate Relief is Needed

The Company last implemented a general base rate increase on June 1, 2022, based on a test period ending June 30, 2021. Since that time, the Company has made significant investments to serve its customers, necessitating this request. The Company undertook transmission and distribution enhancements to upgrade 18 substations and rebuilt 5 substations for improved reliability, increased capacity, and alternate switching schematics. To accompany the substation improvements, approximately 80 miles of transmission lines were reconducted with approximately 30 miles of newly constructed transmission lines. Additionally, the Company sectionalized 7 distribution circuits, reinforced or replaced 2,296 poles, and added wildlife guards to 5,100 devices and 14 substations. In addition, we have replaced our backbone information technology systems and increased cybersecurity protection of our assets.
