

Water sitting in the ditch near the centerline where my animals could drink or play in.

Water flowing from the east side of my land through the culvert under my drive, all downhill from where the easement will be.

Water flowing out the west side of my culvert across my property, downhill and south of easement.