I forgot the biggest one of all, tracking cookies. None of Ameren's so-called screenshot documents has any tracking cookies. In fact, none of Ameren's so-called emails have tracking cookies either. Matter of fact, none of their documents that require tracking cookies, have tracking cookies.

It's because they hide document's they don't want the public to see. Guess your "senior" software engineer forgot about those??Yep, those pesky little tracking cookies. Keep up the great job Ameren!

Ameren Lied! I stand by that!
