To whom it may concern:

I am writing this letter in reference to the Cheri Meadows property in Northern Callaway County.

Over the last 18 months to two years, we have met with Jason Brown, who represents Invenergy, also known as Grain Belt, many times. Mr. Brown reached out to discuss Road Use Agreements with Callaway County, as well as to have additional conversations regarding power line locations within Callaway County. These conversations led to a discussion about the small piece of property owned by Ms. Meadow and the 150'-200- easement they wanted to use across the Southern part of her tract of land.

The County Commission, in conjunction with myself, engaged in discussions with Mr. Brown regarding the potential relocation of this line further south of Ms. Meadows' property. From those discussions, it was my understanding that Invenergy would consider the possibility of moving these lines and collaborate with Ms. Meadows to ensure that her modest property remains unharmed. To my knowledge, based on my conversations with Ms. Meadows, there have been no advancements in resolving this matter.

Working with our constituents is what we do on a daily basis. I hope that Mr. Brown and Invenergy feel this way because that is what I was led to believe.

Please feel free to contact me if you have any questions.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,

Gary Jungermann
