After sleeping on it, I have asked the 16th floor to analyze the potential customer and P&L impacts of extending the outage from 56 to 70 days. With the way that the ECA and the Wholesale margin (and resulting Regulatory Liability) work, the expected P&L impact of this alternative may not be as severe as one might initially think.

I am sorry I am slow on the uptake on this, adjusting my frame of reference to consider these new factors is taking some time. I will share these results as soon as they are available.
