Question No. : 0010

What precedent does GPE/KCPL rely upon to support its proposed methodology to separate "costs to achieve" for 100% recovery from ratepayers from "synergy savings" of which 50% are to be retained by the regulated utility?

Response:

GPE/KCPL did not rely upon any precedent to support its methodology. The request for recovery of the "cost to achieve" and sharing of "synergy savings" is based on the overall plan to make the merger work for all stakeholders where benefits are provided to ratepayers and cost of the merger are recovered.
