9		Association, the National Energy Services Association, and the New England-
10		Canada Business Council.
11
12	Q.	What is the purpose of your rebuttal testimony in this docket?
13	A.	The purpose of my testimony is to address assertions and recommendations made
14		in Staff's Report submitted June 6, 2014, in Case No. GR-2014-0152, specifically
15		as they relate to the Company's firm transportation contract with SourceGas -
16		Arkansas ("SourceGas").
17
18	Q.	Please provide a summary of the firm transportation service in question.
19	A.	The Company has on file with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission
20		("FERC") an interstate transportation rate approved by the FERC in Docket No.
21		CP12-42-000 which allows the Company to receive gas in Missouri and transport
22		said gas across its Southeast Missouri ("SEMO") distribution system to its state

4	Q.	How does the new rate charged by the Company compare to the previous
5		rate charged by Atmos?
6	A.	As shown in Highly Confidential Schedule FCD-R1 HC, comparing the

13	Q.	To your knowledge, were there any incremental facilities required to provide
14		the interstate transportation service to SourceGas by either Atmos or
15		Company subsequent to each entities' purchase of the Missouri assets?
16	A.	To my knowledge, the retained Missouri facilities were the same facilities that
17		were used by SourceGas while it operated the integrated systems of SEMO and
18		Northeast Arkansas. It is also my understanding that two 50 foot stub lines which
19		cross the Missouri-Arkansas border were retained by SourceGas after the sale of
20		its SEMO assets to Atmos. No additional facilities were added when Company
21		subsequently purchased the Missouri assets from Atmos.

1		Much like SourceGas' Northeast Arkansas service territory, Company's RHH
2		service territory is reliant on transportation across a third party distribution system
3		for its gas supply needs. However, unlike SourceGas, Company's RHH customers
4		are completely reliant on this service 365 days per year and, more importantly, do
5		not have any viable, cost-effective alternatives for supply.
